Annual Report 2003 - 2004

“Some of my best moments
in college were spent in the library;
working, reading, studying,
listening to music,
and just thinking.”

UNIVERSITY OF CONNECTICUT LIBRARIES

The University's re-located Waterbury Campus was dedicated in October, and that Library now serves as the focal point for the new downtown campus. With room for about 50,000 print volumes, this networked facility offers group study opportunities, individual study carrels, and comfortable seating and provides Waterbury Campus students and faculty with a wonderful local library environment.

On the Storrs campus, in response to requests from students, Babbidge Library extended its closing hours from midnight until 2 a.m. on Sunday through Thursday nights and opened earlier on weekends during the academic year. Thanks in large part to the generosity of the UConn Class of 1953, the Libraries' second video theater was renovated, and it subsequently hosted many classes whose instructors incorporated video materials into their curriculum. The public computers in the popular Bookworms Café were replaced, as were most of the public computers in the Information Cafes. Photocopy and print services were adapted to accept Husky Bucks using UConn's new "smart" campus identification card.

Complementing these physical improvements, the Libraries also continued to develop our digital library services. Quest, our implementation of the ENCompass for Resource Access software, enables researchers to simultaneously search multiple electronic resources using a federated search engine. The UConn Libraries also joined 14 other Boston Library Consortium (BLC) members this year in its Virtual Catalog project. Now library users in Storrs and at the five regional campuses can directly request books that are available at participating BLC libraries without mediation from Interlibrary Loan staff, speeding up the delivery of sought after books while at the same time saving valuable library staff time.

After soliciting much input from UConn students, faculty, and library staff, the Libraries also unveiled a new web home page this year. A new digital collection, Special Reports of the Connecticut Institute of Water Resources, was offered, and digitization work continued on enhancements to Connecticut History Online.

Babbidge Library and the Thomas J. Dodd Research Center hosted a number of memorable public programs this year. Babbidge Library's 25th anniversary celebration featured UConn Women's Basketball Coach Geno Auriemma and award-winning author and UConn faculty member Gina Barreca. The First Thomas J. Dodd Prize in International Justice and Human Rights was awarded to English Prime Minister Tony Blair and his Irish counterpart, Bertie Ahern. This year's RBS Greenwich Capital lecture was delivered by Securities and Exchange Commission Chairman William H. Donaldson. The Libraries' exhibits program continued to make a significant contribution to the campus community's cultural life with another strong series of exhibits, culminating in the popular "Birds of a Feather" ornithological exhibits and events.
